Denver Metro Area Resource Guide for Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender Elders

sponsored by Denver Regional Council Governments and The Center

Welcome to the first edition of the Denver Metro Area Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender Elder (LGBT) Resource Guide. This guide was created to help LGBT elders and their loved ones identify agencies and businesses that are welcoming to the LGBT elder community. This guide is sponsored by the Denver Regional Council of Governments (DRCOG) and The Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Transgender Community Center of Colorado (The Center). It was also created with the help of a committee of LGBT elders and professionals who are advocates for the LGBT elder community. In 2004, Boulder County Aging Services developed an awareness training program for providers called Project Visibility. Starting in 2009, DRCOG and The Center began providing regular Project Visibility sessions. This training is designed to help providers become sensitive to the needs of LGBT elders and how to provide competent care and services.

Agencies listed in this guide responded to a mailing from DRCOG and The Center and/or attended a training on providing sensitive and competent services to the LGBT elder community.

Using this guide:

Agencies marked with an E have received education/training on working with LGBT elders through Project Visibility or similar training.

Agencies with a P have provided DRCOG and The Center with a copy of their anti-discrimination policy that includes sexual orientation and gender identity. Please note some 1-2 person agencies may not have written policies.

Agencies with a T responded “yes” when asked if they are welcoming of transgender people.

Descriptions were provided by each listed agency; some descriptions may have been edited slightly for consistency.
